Nevada Watercolor Society was founded in 1969 by a group of watercolor artists who wanted to educate the public on the diversity of watercolor as well as teaching other artists who were interested in watercolor the myriad techniques. Article II of our bylaws explains it this way: The purpose of this society shall be to encourage, promote and advance watercolor painting through the education of the artists and general public. NVWS provides workshops by nationally recognized artists. There are also watercolor demonstrations at the monthly meetings. There are three watercolor exhibits each year that are juried by qualified jurists. They are: the Fall Show, the Signature Show and the Spring Show.

Message from our Juror: Cindy Briggs: "Thank you for the honor of judging your stunning exhibition. It was challenging to limit my award choices. There is a great variety of subjects, inspiring styles, and compelling compositions. After multiple reviews I narrowed it down to 15. Then, as I looked at each image for final review I look deeper at the mastery of the medium, the subject, point-of-view, the use of color harmony, lost and found edges, a unique style - something that surprises me. I'd love to paint along side each of you, because each of you have been an inspiration. I appreciate you for sharing your Signature artist work, and wish you all the best."
