

A Word from Juror Kim Johnson Nechtman:

I am honored to be your juror and judge for NVWS this year. Congratulations to all who submitted, I can tell you all work hard at watercolor. As an instructor and student of the arts, I appreciate how difficult it is to put your paintings out there for judgement. Art is subjective and the journey to learn and grow are different for each individual. My hope is that the show helps to inspire artists to continue in their endeavor to grow. I HAD ONE WISH AFTER JUDGING THIS SHOW— I NEEDED MORE AWARDS! There were not enough for the good work that is being displayed.. Thank you again for your trust in me to judge and jury your show!
